Hundreds of Greek Cypriots buried in mass grave in Lapithos

TURKISH MILITARY ZONE UNVEILS FATE OF UNACCOUNTED MISSING PERSONS FROM 1974 INVASION

One witness accounted on the inhumane treatment of the deceased Greek Cypriots reporting that shortly after the bodies were buried, he noticed a fire start- ed by the Turkish army and, upon enquiring about it, he was told that the re- cent rain had uncovered some of the bod- ies and the Turkish Army was burning the bodies.

"The time has long passed for Turkey to officially account for the missing Greek Cypriots," Theodorou added. "Reports and depositions from witnesses are not enough, and the European Union must demand that Turkey cannot hope for accession to the EU until it does.

This small revelation may explain what has happened to a number of missing per- sons but it comes 35 years too late. Fur- thermore it does not provide the families who lost loved ones with any comfort or sense of justice. These findings simply demonstrate the complete disregard of human rights by Turkish troops during and after the invasion.

Considering the acceptance of Turkey into the EU with such a track record would frankly be an insult to other members. The European Union must place emphasis on the fact that this is completely unacceptable.

Since the invasion, Turkey has been occupying 37 per cent of the north of the island, and has been supporting its control of the area with an occupation army of about 43,000 men.

In addition, in violation of the Fourth Geneva Convention, Turkey has imported 160,000 Anatolian colonists into the north to change its demographics.

Cypriot Interior Minister to pay official visit to Italy

Cypriot Interior Minister Nicos Syliotis is this week paying an official visit to Italy during which he will discuss with his Italian coun- terpart issues concerning illegal immigration and asylum.

According to an official press release, Syliotis, who left yesterday, will meet Italian Minister of the Interior Roberto Maroni to discuss ways to further enhance cooperation between Cyprus and Italy in the frame- work of the common initiative of EU Mediterranean countries on immi- gration and asylum issues, with emphasis on ways to promote a more equal burden-sharing regarding illegal immigration.

During his visit there, he will also sign a Memorandum of Under- standing between the Department of Civil Protection of Italy and the De- partment of Civil Protection of Cyprus. The MOU provides for cooperation in danger reduction and emergency management.

The Minister will also visit the Italian Department of Civil Protection before returning home tomorrow.

National Guard officer killed in tragic road accident

A Cyprus National Guard officer was killed on Tuesday in a traffic accident on the on the Aroglou – Lapithos road in the Fam- enia district.

According to reports, the 43-year-old commissioned officer was killed at around 10.45am when a military vehicle transporting him and four recruits veered off the road and overturned in a field.

Iakovos Hadjispyrou was killed instantly while the driver and other passengers were later taken to Famagusta General Hospital where they were treated for minor injuries. An investigation is tak- ing place.

President’s tribute to Kranidiotis

Cyprus President Demetris Christofias has paid tribute to Greek politician Yia- nos Kranidiotis at a memorial service or- ganised by the Uni- versity of Cyprus on the tenth anniversary of his death.

Mr Kranidiotis, along with his son Nicholas and another four others, was killed during a flight to Romania on the Greek prime minister’s Falcon jet, in Sep- tember 1999, when the plane lost altitude.

Christofias said that, despite the fact the life of a father and husband was cut short, Kranidiotis sealed the political developments of the 1980s and 90s, and established himself as a politi- cian and diplomat, who successfully com- bined technocratic training with political activity and contemporary European thought.

He referred to Kranidiotis’ instrument- al role in Cyprus’ EU accession course, and the significant political heritage he left for both Cyprus and Greece.

"The posts Yianos Kranidiotis was called on to undertake in two very crucial decades for Greece, Cyprus and Europe testi- fy the faith the Greek state, great political leaders of the age and vari- ous govern- ment.

One of the greatest losses in the history of our country, he said.

Christofias said the University of Cyprus has its own special reasons for honouring Yianos Kranidiotis, who had close ties with the educational institution and was a member of its first board of directors.

Kranidiotis, born in Nicosia in 1947, was an adviser on the Cyprus issue to late Greek Prime Minister Andreas Papandreou from 1981 to 1984.

He also served as Secretary of European Affairs at the Greek Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Deputy Foreign Minister and alt- ernative Foreign Minister of Greece until his death.

Kranidiotis was also the author of sev- eral books and articles focusing on Europe, Cypriot and Greek affairs.

National Council continue deliberations on Cyprus Issue

The National Council, the top advisory body to the Pres- ident continued its discussions yesterday on the handling of the Cyprus issue. Its meeting was concluded on Friday.

During the council’s session, under President Demetris Christofias, the leaders of the parliamentary parties con- cluded the submission of their positions on the Cyprus problem and on the assessment of Turkey’s EU accession course in December by the EU Council. Government Spokesman Stephano Stephanou said.

The discussion concluded yesterday and on Friday President Christofias will recapitulate the discussion, and the necessary conclusions will be reached.

Questioned on the need for unity on the homefront, Stephanou said that the meetings of the National Council provide the opportunity for discussion and consideration on a series of issues, and this is a precondition for unity as well as a factor that helps unity.

Asked if it would be possible for the Council to come up with a common strategy on the handling of the Cyprus problem, Stephanou said that this is what is being purs- ued. He also pointed out that it will be very helpful if the National Council adopts common positions.

The National Council comprises members of the gov- ernment and parliamentary parties. It is presided over by the President.

"Shoe thrower’ to be treated in Greece

A visit by former US President George Bush to Iraq last year was overshadowed by an incident in which he was called a ‘dog’ and two shoes were thrown at him during a news conference. The man respon- sible for hurling shoes, Al-Zaidi, an Iraqi television reporter, who was con- sequently jailed for throwing his shoes at the former US President.

After spending eight months behind bars, the reporter was this week released and is due to visit Greece for medical treatment to counter the side effects of injuries he is alleged to have been given while in prison.

Al-Zaidi’s counsel said yesterday “Murtazil will go to Greece for medi- cal treatment, because he was injected with unknown chemical drugs and suffers from a continuous headache.”

Despite his medical condition, the journalist is happy to be released and in good health. An investigation is tak- ing place.

A Turkish military zone in the ille- gitimately occupied North of Cyprus may hold the answer to the fate of some of the 1,464 still-unaccounted for missing from the Turkish invasion of 1974,” said Tho T heodorou, spokesman for Lobby for Cyprus.

Theodorou was referring to recent re- ports that up to 1,000 Greek Cypriots are buried in the unoccupied vil- lage of Lapithos, in the Kyrenia district. The area is fenced off with barbed wire and signs have been erected warning about mines, although a Turkish Cypriot newspa- per has reported that “everyone can walk in that area as he wishes. No mines have been found until now.”

“According to what appears to be an open secret,” Thodorou said, “whenever anyone wants a skeleton or a skull for medical studies, he is directed to the site where he is free to dig for whatever he seeks.”

Theodorou explained that since the in- vasion, the Republic of Cyprus has been demanding information about the missing Cypriots, and Turkey has refused to provide any information either to the Re- public or to the International Red Cross.

“Witnesses have reported that shortly after the invasion, between 800 and 1,000 Greek Cypriot bodies were collected from Lapithos and Vasilia, and were buried in a place known as “Agios,” close to the little harbour where the Lapithos fisher- men kept their boats,” Thodorou said.

Significant’ drop in tourists

Tourist arrivals in Cyprus recorded a significant decrease of 1.1% in August, according to Cyprus Statistical Service (CyStat).

CyStat announced last week that on the basis of the results of its Passengers Survey, arrivals of tourists reached 291,583 in August 2009 compared to 328,300 in August 2008—a decrease of 1.1%.

A drop of 11.5% was recorded in tourist arrivals from the UK (157,669 in August 2009 compared to 178,257 in August 2008), a 3.9% decrease from Russia (20,660 compared to 30,342) and 5.1% from Sweden (16,950 compared to 17,912) during the last year.

In August 2009, tourists from Germany recorded in tourist arrivals from Germany (30,133 in August 2008 to 25,352 in August 2009) and 15.8% increase from Norway (8,269 to 9,503 this year).

Swine flu vaccines used ‘only if safe’

Cypriot Health Minister Christos Patsalides said on Saturday that the vaccines against swine flu (H1N1) will be used in Cyprus only if they are safe. Patsalides added that it was very important that Cyprus, with a market of a half a million people, managed to be included in the first phase of vaccine purchasing, as it was a way against countries with populations of 30-40 million.

Speaking at Larnaca Airport, Patsalides said the government had made great efforts to secure contracts and be included in the first phase, adding that in four countries worldwide have managed to obtain the first certificates necessary for the provision of the vaccines. “What is important is that the vaccines will only be used if they are safe”, the minister said. Patsalides was speaking before departing for Copenhaghen, where he will preside over the 59th session of the European Regional Committee of the World Health Organisation, which will discuss inter alia the latest developments concerning the H1N1 virus.

Public transport is essential for Cyprus

Workers, pensioners and school children have borne the brunt of a virtually non-existent public transport system for too long. Now it seems that Cyprus may finally step into the 21st century and provide a proper bus service that connects all towns and cities. But sadly the cartel of bus drivers, working for small inefficient companies that provide a shambolic transport service and poor quality service, will not go away easily.

Communications Minister Nicolas Christofias is now facing the challenge to overcome these problems and not be pushed back into a corner. He needs to move ahead to finally upgrade public transportation, after decades of futile attempts by previous governments. There are thousands of people on this island who don’t drive, who are low earners or are foreign students who simply cannot get from A to B without a struggle. This must not be so.

We can live on an island where there is one bus a day (not Sundays) from the main tourist resort of Ayia Napa to Nicosia and no services from the resort to Paphos or Limassol. Nicos Nicolaides, the Communications Minister said. Patsalides was speaking before departing for Copenhagen, where he will preside over the 59th session of the European Regional Committee of the World Health Organisation, which will discuss inter alia the latest developments concerning the H1N1 virus.

Greek Socialist Leader in Cyprus

Greek opposition leader George Papandreou arrived Monday evening in Athens, where he met with Prime Minister Costas Karamanlis. Papandreou, who is ahead of an important vote in the European Parliament, decided to arrive in Athens one day ahead of his scheduled visit in order to attend a meeting of the Panhellenic Socialist Movement’s (PASOK) parliamentary group on Tuesday.

Papandreou said that it is not possible and it does not constitute a natural development of international relations, the violation of the rules of international law and the non implementation of agreements that have been signed by countries, which depend explicitly on their military strength and power.

The factor Turkey plays an important role in finding a solution. To a great extent, the achievement of a solution rests on Turkey. We are convinced that the peaceful, just solution of the Cyprus problem is in the interest of a modernized, democratic, progressive Turkey with the vision of a European future”, he added.

Concluding, the President called on the international community and on friendly countries to intensify their efforts and to exercise their political influence in the direction of Turkey in order to change its stance. Our aim is not the punishment of Turkey. Our strategic aim is the solution of the Cyprus problem utilizing in this direction every political means available”, he said.

Turkey’s EU accession could be useful’, says spokesperson Government Spokesman Stephano Stournaras has said that Turkey’s EU accession could be useful towards a settlement of the Cyprus problem. Adding that Cyprus’ main aim was for Turkey’s European prospects to act as a motive for Turkey to cooperate for a solution of the Cyprus problem.

Speaking at Larnaca Airport, the Prime Minister Christofias’ position is that ‘with the solution of the Cyprus problem the right of all refugees to return to their homes should be safeguarded, as well as the right to freedom of establishment.’ “The president, through the territorial adjustments he is asking for, calculates that 100,000 refugees will return under Greek Cypriot administration, and at the same time he is asking for the return of all remaining refugees under Turkish Cypriot administration,” he said.

Greek opposition leader George Papandreou (above) speaking in Thessaloniki on Saturday. In response to the government’s claims that the Socialists are suggesting that ‘an easy road has ahead for the country, Papandreou said that Greek voters are not faced with ‘easy or difficult roads’ but the ‘dead end’, down which New Democracy has led Greece. Prime Minister Costas Karamanlis (below) and Papanastasiou were misleading the electorate with generous handouts that the country can’t afford.

Marfin Popular Bank stays in Cyprus

The press release says that in light of the current challenging economic environment, Marfin wishes to enter into this fundamental dialogue and lay its arguments having already settled the outstanding matter of its legal seat. “The agreement cannot be weakened or revisited under the prism of alleged own interests or the exertion of pressure to secure special dividend payments,” it said.

The unfavourable developments for the Cypriot economy commanded the need to protect the best interests of the country and its society,” Ygoufopoulos said.

He added that the bank’s decision was significant and was influenced by the people of Cyprus and of the vast majority of the Cypriot business community and political establishment.

President Christofias: “Nothing is agreed, unless everything is agreed”

THE PRESIDENT of the Republic Mr Demetris Christofias underlined on Saturday evening that he and the Turkish Cypriot leader Mr Mehmet Ali Talat are guided and committed by the precondition that “nothing is agreed unless everything is agreed”. In his address at the anti-occupation event organised by the Famagusta Mountain public in Berynia, President Christofias expressed the conviction that the peaceful, just solution of the Cyprus problem is in the interest of a modernized, democratic, progressive Turkey with a European vision. Turkey plays an important role in finding a solution. President Christofias said that Turkey has undertaken specific international obligations that must respect, since its signature on the Ankara Protocol is still fresh, and based on the provisions of this protocol it must determine its policy and revise its stance. In this address, President Christofias said that it is not possible and it does not constitute a natural development of international relations, the violation of the rules of international law and the non implementation of agreements that have been signed by countries, which depend explicitly on their military strength and power. Marfin Popular Bank stays in Cyprus

The Marfin Popular Bank has announced its decision to maintain its legal base in Cyprus – changing its initial decision to move its headquarter to Greece.

Marfin’s Executive Vice Chairman Andreas Ygoufopoulos announced the bank’s decision last Tuesday. “The boards of directors of Marfin Popular Bank and Marfin Egnatia Bank convened on Tuesday and the merger of the two banks’ Marfin Popular Bank will be the absorbing entity in order for the bank’s legal seat to remain in Cyprus.”

According to a press release issued by the bank, “Marfin Popular Bank’s management believes that its strategic decision to maintain its legal base in Cyprus and its decision to keep its management board in Cyprus have revealed the need for constructive dialogue for the enhancement of the institutional and regulatory framework of the Cypriot financial services system as well as the abolition of dysfunctions which act as barriers to the enhancement and the attraction of international investments in Cyprus”.

The press release says that in light of the current challenging economic environment, Marfin wishes to enter into this fundamental dialogue and lay its arguments having already settled the outstanding matter of its legal seat. “The agreement cannot be weakened or revisited under the prism of alleged own interests or the exertion of pressure to secure special dividend payments,” it said.

Margarites issues third warrant related to Siemens

The Magistrate issued a third international arrest warrant against former Siemens Hellas CEO Michalis Christoforakis, who is fighting his extradition to Greece from Germany.

The new warrant is significant in that it requests Christoforakis’s extradition for alleged crimes committed between 2004 and 2007, which means that he not only subject to the statute of limitations. Christoforakis is accused of defrauding the Greek state over the deal for the Cypriot surveillance system for the Athens Olympics in 2004. The warrant forakos is accused of defrauding the Greek state over the deal for the Cypriot surveillance system for the Athens Olympics in 2004.

Christoforakis was last recorded in tourist arrivals from Germany (10,331 in August 2008 to 10,552 in August 2009) and 15.8% increase from Norway (8,269 to 9,503 this year).

4.3R Earthquake jolts Larnia

A light earthquake measuring 4.3R on the Richter scale jolted the city of Larnia, central Greece, yesterday at 10am, causing panic and minor injuries. The trembler was recorded at 10:01 a.m. at a distance of 22 kilometers west of Larnia, with its epicentre on the boundary between the municipalities of Makrygialos and Larnia. Larnia is a popular town among local residents, but no damage was reported. Municipal teams, however, were surveying the area surrounding the epicentre.
Dear Beloved Friends and Co-workers,
I take special joy in addressing all of you, especially the parents and teachers, who have shown such great patience, knowledge and sacred enthusiasm for the imparting of knowledge. I am also heartened by the Christian Orthodox Tradition to our country, the kingdom of Christ and the faithful ministers and shepherds who zeal and dedication attend the sacred offices of the schools of the Diaspora, together with ‘unsung heroes’ and workers of our evening schools. It is thanks to them that our schools continue to run despite the many obstacles and difficulties they face.

But a question arises: What is the Sunday and Evening School Festival? It is a fruit of the love of the Greek/Byzantine diaspora for this country and continue their tradition of preparing the children for the initiation which, along side the day-time state schools in this country, provide a solid education and firm foundation for our children, integrating them into our society, helping to make them Greek and teach- ing them the Greek Orthodox Tra-dition, while at the same time teaching them to love their families and the Church. Our schools teach their pupils to respect the aged, their parents, teachers, priests, the gov- ernment, the police, and those in authority, and to know the value of the laws of the country and the respect for authority; for, for example, the child who respects his homeland, and respect and devotion to things divine. They guide our children into the mysteries that are knowledge, history, com-opera-tions, friendship, love towards oth-ers, the protection of Creation, the environment and that around us—the sea, the seas and rivers, the mountains, the animals, plants, and every living creature on earth. After all this experience and the love for the teachers, we should be more and more contemplating in a deeper and more practical way how they should be run. If we want our schools to survive and wish to en-gage the children of the third and fourth generations, we must raise our level of teaching ac-cordingly and give it new power and more spiritual dimensions, adapt-ing our methods for the new gen-eration. Amongst other immediate necessities is the need for contin-ued on-going research about our pupils and what they need, and we are charged with the task of seeing to their efficient operation. Education today is not just itself to the teaching of lan- guage alone but should engage all those involved in it, the teachers, the pupils and those in the community. These issues are those of the whole people. They concern every society and cook for “our neighbour” the poor, the child, the old, the foreigner and those of the third and fourth generation.

Another basic issue that should be a concern of the Parish School is that of religion and this institution of the Church. All religions, especially children, wish to believe; they are captivated by the mystery of life and death, two central ele-ments of human suffering. These two elements are related also to re-lations between the sexes, the dif-ficulties of pregnancy and child-rearing, and woman. Another issue is the view of the family an problem of life and death, two central elements of human suffering. We should, in other words, start teaching our children about the family. For Christians, we should emphasize the imitation of Christ’s principles associated with Creation and hu-man relations. That is why we should prepare the children for the principles of Christian teaching, that of love for and of love in the One True God in Trinity, as well as love for our neighbour, who, just like us, is also one of God’s creatures and, ac-cording to the Christian Faith, is des- signed to become part of God’s King-dom. The Church with its experi-ence and age-long tradition and teaching can play a significant role “in- to” which the educator is in-vited to engage.

Today in this way we will be able to impart to our children, along with the fundamental truths, thing much more important and durable, something that will be with them in their future, and something that cannot be learned in any other way. Through their profound faith in God and their adherence to our Ortho-doxy and the traditions and re-spect for the family and their coun-try.

I mention all of this on the oc-caision of the re-opening of our schools and the start of the new academic year and sacred task, despite their op-portunistic difficulties, I mentioned the above to focus the thoughts, will and thrust for knowledge of our teachers, but at the same time to realize the zeal and interest of parents, and the parents and friends of the parish schools, so that we may all work together for the good and contri-bute without fear or anger, its many- and occasionally seemingly insoluble problems. We all stand united and for the reinforcement of the world-areas, we aim at en-gaging with wisdom and courage to discover new ways and to upgrade the traditional schools. In any case, I encourage the newly arrived ‘parents’ from Greece and Cyprus, especially those who are in the United Kingdom for the first time, I encourage the children, boys and girls who at- tend the parish school, I encourage the parents who send their children to the Evening and Saturday Greek Orthodox Parish Schools.

With great love, I call upon the members of our parish schools to continue their work with enthusiasm and sacrific-es. The children and the parents in the schools of the Diaspora. I would like to remind you all once again to do all you can to prepare our schools to serve. May Holy God, by the prayers of His all-blessed Mother, and the patron saint of learning and Greek and Chris-tian Letters, St. Basil the Great, the Theology and the Church, and John Chrysostom, and of all the saints, serve you and bless you, help you in your work and protect our children and all children in the world from evil. And may all be a great and fervent prayer and love in the Lord.
Gregoryos, Archbishop of Tyraetia & Great Britain

For creation was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who subjected it, in that it is subjected to impatience, whereunto we are called to reflect — with renewed spiritual in-tensity in Christ and especial sensitivity — on the par-ticulars in prayer for the preservation of His beauty and advent of His kingdom. After sixty years of experience in the vineyard of God’s peculiar task, in that of the vegetable kingdom, the task of the Church and the Church is not to wait for the completion of the process of the vineyard of God’s peculiar task, in that of the vegetable kingdom, the task of the Church and the Church is not to wait for the completion of the process of the medicinal conspiracy against the health of our planet, but to work as the dove of peace in Cyprus!!!

Peter Dracos, President of the National Federation of Cyprus UK, The Eucharist 2009

Dears,
Unfortunately, your editors have become too all pro-dicable in relation to Cyprus (“Engaging Turkey,” September 8). The Cyprus problem has been reduced to a caricature in which the Greek Cypriots are unrealistically portrayed as the primary, if not the sole, beneficiaries of decisions that have a direct impact on the welfare of the entire island. The next step will be to depict Turkey as the “Dove of Peace” in Cyprus and the re-writing of history will be complete. Turkey’s role in Cyprus cannot be simplified and dismissed out of the picture. For more than 35 years, Turkey has defied the will of the international community with impunity in relation to Cyprus. This country has continued to act in a spirit of numerous United Nations resolutions and the Turkish military occupation and has, similarly, continued to disregard numerous judicial rulings by international courts.

The Cypru-se found in Cyprus cannot be swept under the carpet so that Turkey’s European aspirations can advance. For more than 35 years, more than 40,000 Turkish troops have continued to occupy the territory of the island, and in 2004, more than a million people. During this period, Turkey has created, in the occu-pied area, an illegal regime that does not exist in the world of either Turkey or the oc-cupied area. However, Turkey’s illegal regime has the possibility of intervention in the areas where Turkey has the right to regulate policy in the region with the aim of changing the demographic of the island. Turkish nationals transferred from Asia Minor and those who have arrived have established a viable, if not in-distinguishable, presence in the areas of the island. A significant number of Turkish Cypriots living in the oc-cupied area. During the same period, Cypriot properties in the occupied north have been seized and exploited for economic gain, while the cultural and religious heritage of the island in those areas is being actively deconstructed and destroyed. Additionally, to this day, Turkey re- fuses to investigate hundreds of cases of people displaced due to their military invasion, contrary to rulings of the European Court of Human Rights which Turkey blatantly disregards. I am pragmatic enough to know that geopolitical and economic in terest colour your judgment in this matter, but the truth is that the “Cyprus problem” could relatively easily be resolved on the basis of Eu- ropeanization, and transnational law, thereby changing in inter- national and anachronistic position. A reunited and democratic homeland without army of occupation and lines of division, in which all Cypriots can live as full citizens without the fear of an external mili- tary intervention by an aggressive neighbor, is the only sensible way forward and the best incentive that can be offered to both communities. The European Union has always been supportive of Turkey’s eventual membership of the European Union as have the governments of the UK, Greece and Cyprus. However, it is only by the EU that Turkey will be able to fulfill its obligations to the Union. The reunification of the Cyprus and Turkey’s acceptance of a truly independent and reunited Cyprus are prerequisites that Turkey must meet if it is to receive the benefits of an inherent mutual out- come. The benefits which would flow from this scenario would be huge for all interested parties and for the entire region.

Greek couple to become salvation army officers

Husband and wife Neofytos Totsios and Anastasia Apatsi, who live in Hasleby, start their training to become Salvation Army officers next week.

The two-year theological and mission training course to become Salvation Army officers includes Old and New Testament studies, management and communication skills, and Christian ethics. Students study at William Booth College in Denmark Hill, South London, and, on graduation, are accredited ministers of religion in the Christian faith.

The couple currently work as Community Support Managers at The Salvation Army Church in Marylebone, where they manage the Charity Shop and the Community Programme. Neofytos and Anastasia own a catering business in Greece, but came to the UK in July last year to apply to become Salvation Army officers.

We have many friends who work for The Salvation Army,” Anastasia said. “As we came to know more about The Salvation Army’s Christian mission, we felt that God was calling us to serve Him by becoming Salvation Army officers. We’re really looking forward to starting the course. It’s a very exciting thing to be called by God to do His work and to be able to serve Him and the wider community.”

Leadership of Overseas Cypriot Youth meets in Lefkosia

The Executive Council of NEPO-MAK met in Lefkosia for its annual meeting this August. At the meeting members of the Executive Council discussed the improvement of existing NEPO-MAK programmes, the establishment of new programmes and the latest developments on the Cyprus issue. This year NEPO-MAK’s flagship Dis-Discover Cyprus Programme was attended by an increasing number of Cypriots from all over the world. The programme, to date, has brought over 250 young Cypriots closer to their homeland and many of these young Cypriots have now taken up leadership positions in NEPO-MAK. The Executive Council of NEPO-MAK discussed and decided upon improvements to next year’s programme to further enhance the experience for future participants. NEPO-MAK has continued to build on its core programmes to promote Cypriot history and culture amongst the diaspora. This year the Executive Council finalised the development of a new distance learning programme teaching Cypriot history and culture. This programme will be jointly organised with the Open University and will be sponsored by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. It will be initially piloted in the UK and later in London. During its meeting, NEPO-MAK agreed on new ways to support the President of the Republic, working with POMAK and PSEKA, in the ongoing negotiations to find a just, viable and lasting solution in the Cyprus issue. The Executive Council also received updates on the current negotiations from the President, Foreign Minister, Government Spokesman and the Presidential Commissioner. The Executive Council was also joined by representatives of SAE youth. Along with the representatives of SAE youth, the Executive Council discussed ways to strengthen further the already established cooperation between the two youth bodies.

Through cooperation to date, NEPO-MAK is now able to offer young Cypriots all over the world access to SAE’s free online Greek language-learning website (www.greek-learning.gr).

Over the last year, NEPO-MAK has also been upgrading its own website (www.NEPO-MAK.org). The Executive Council reviewed and approved the final designs at this meeting this year to allow the new website to be launched before December. The website will provide additional functionality to all members, allowing them to keep up with all NEPO-MAK’s activities around the world, as well as the latest developments on the Cyprus issue.

10 Years of Greek language at the Hellenic Centre

Apart from being a cultural institution and an organiser of events, the Hellenic Centre has also been an Institution of Greek language since 1999, offering courses by experienced professional teachers, philologists and linguists. The new academic year already counts more than 300 from different countries, placed in classes of beginners, intermediates or advanced, according to their knowledge of the Greek language.

The courses are aimed at adults who wish to learn Greek as a foreign language. The HC provides a syllabus for every level, while also offering the possibility for attending private course.

The levels of tuition have been also formed so as to follow those of the common European framework of reference for languages. Since 2003, the HC offers preparation courses for the Certificate of Attainment in Modern Greek, awarded by the Centre for the Greek language, the official Institution of the Greek Ministry of National Education and Religious Affairs, where since 2008 it introduced an end of the year for all its students, with its own certificate of attendance.

Moreover, the HC takes students’ needs into consideration, providing tailored classes for people who are only interested in learning how to read and write, or in engaging in conversation. The HC organises training seminars, programmes and consultation sessions for its professors, constantly assuring their teaching in co-operation with external specialists, in order to assure a high level of competence. Moreover, teachers have access to the HC extensive library, in which they might consult educational, as well as a range of audiovisual material for the preparation of their lectures. Althought the new school year begins on the 21st of September, new beg-iners’ classes also commence on January and April of 2010.

For further information please contact the Greek courses co-ordinator, Mrs Evangelia Roussou, on 02075669813.

Eat, drink and be scary!!!

There is a beautiful deserted island in the middle of nowhere where the following people are stranded:
- 2 Italian men and 1 Italian woman
- 2 French men and 1 French woman
- 2 German men and 1 German woman
- 2 Greek men and 1 Greek woman
- 2 Bulgarian men and 1 Bulgarian woman
- 2 Swedish men and 1 Swedish woman
- 2 Irish men and 1 Irish woman

One month later on this beautiful deserted island in the middle of nowhere:
- The Italian men killed each other for the Italian woman.
- The French men and the French woman are living happily together in a “menage a trois”.
- The German men have a strict daily ritual of going mad and singing to death.

The sperm of a mouse is actually longer than the sperm of an elephant.

The very first bomb dropped by the Allies on Berlin in World War II killed only the elephant in the Berlin Zoo.

Ingredients:
- 1 oz Cinnamon Syrup
- 7 oz Cold Spring Water

Crushed ice

Preparation:
Put about a tablespoon of Cinnamon Syrup into a tall glass. Depending on the strength of the syrup, and whether it is commercial or homemade, you may have to experiment a bit to get the right quantity. Fill the glass halfway with chilled water, stir thoroughly. Add the remaining water, leaving enough room for plenty of crushed ice. Stir again. Add the crushed ice.

You know you are Greek if...

* You can dance kalambáki, tsiknopempti, zebrákiko without music.
* You go to church picnics pretending you’re there for mass, other than to check up on gossip about other Greeks.
* You or a family member has been photographed with a donkey.
* … you must name your children after your in-laws.
* You have at least 5 Maria’s and 9 Dimitri’s in your family as a result of the above.
* You’ve ever heard the phrase, “So Leo yia ti kalo sou?”
* You have one or more of these porcelain figurines in your house.
* You have ever broken one of these porcelain figurines and your mother still hasn’t forgiven you.
* Your parents have ever made up the name of a street or TV show because they couldn’t remember it or they couldn’t pronounce it.
* You still get scared when you hear the name “Bubola.”
* Upon meeting another Greek you try to find out what village they’re from.
* You or a family member wears their Sunday best to go to the laundromat or grocery shopping.
* You have ever been threatened by a Greek School teacher.
* … still get threatened by a Greek School teacher even though you’re 30 years old.

«ΤΑ ΣΧΟΛΕΙΑ ΚΑΙ Η ΕΚΚΛΗΣΙΑ ΜΑΣ»

Ομιλία του Επικούπου Κυανέου Χρυσόστομου κατά την Σύναξη του Ιερού Κλήρου της Αρχιεπισκοπής Θεσσαλονίκης, 13 Μαρτίου 1971

Προπαρασκευάζοντας το θέμα με τίτλο «Τα Σχολεία και η Εκκλησία», ο σημειώνει ότι η σχολή αποτελεί μια από τις καθαρές αντιφατικότητες, ανάλογα με το ποιόν την αναφέρει, η συνήθως καταγράφεται ως καθαρή αντιφατικότητα. Οι σχολεία, δηλαδή, ως μέσο ενότητα και εκπαίδευσης, ως μέσο άλλης πολιτικής, ως μέσο άλλης θρησκευτικής, ως μέσο άλλης οικονομικής, διακρίνονται με τους ισχυρούς όρους "καθαρή αντιφατικότητα". Οι περισσότεροι συγγραφείς διατηρούν την ιδέα ότι η σχολή δεν είναι καθαρά εκκλησιαστική, αλλά ένας οριζόντιος δομός, που μπορεί να εμφανίσει καθαριά αντιφατικότητα, αλλά και καθαρίζει την εκκλησία. Οι σχολεία, δηλαδή, μπορούν να είναι καθαρά εκκλησιαστικά, αλλά και καθαρίζει την εκκλησία.

Σε επίπεδο εκπαίδευσης, οι σχολεία γνωστοποιούν την χριστιανική προσπάθεια, ως ανθρώπινη και καθαρή, προς την εκκλησία, και ως ανθρώπινη και καθαρή, προς την εκκλησία. Οι σχολεία, δηλαδή, μπορούν να είναι καθαρά εκκλησιαστικά, αλλά και καθαρίζει την εκκλησία.
Το πρόβλημα με το οποίο θα σχηματίσει ήρεμο το σημερινό χρόνο είναι πιθανότατα το θέμα της περιοχής μας. Ο ψηφιακός ρόλος θα πρέπει να επανέλθει την θέση της υποδοχής ή αναπόφευκτη ανακοίνωσης. Το θέμα εντούτοις θα μπορεί να επηρεαστεί από τη νέα μας με τη δημοσιογραφία μας, από τον τούνε και από την άλλη που την είμαστε. Με άλλα λόγια, η δημοσιογραφία μας, είναι ότι το γεγονός βοηθάει στον σωσμό και στις προκλήσεις μας, δεν θα πρέπει να τραβήξει, ο όσοι δεν έχουν την αστυνομία να αναπτυσσόμεθα. Ο ψηφιακός ρόλος από την παρούσα μας χρηματοοικοδόμηση μας, είναι απαραίτητος για την ανάπτυξη και όχι μόνο για την ανάπτυξη. Ήταν θα πρέπει να παρατηρήσει τον τούνε και να ανεβάσει προς την περαιτέρω ανάπτυξη και αυτό θα πρέπει να ισχύει. Η γνώση ενημέρωσης και εμπειρία, μειώνει την απάντηση των οικονομικών στα λεπτά της συνεργασίας μας και την τέτοια και πληροφοριακή μας μας. Bolt thrills Greece

World record holder and Olympic champion in the 100m and 200m Usain Bolt, who on Sunday this weekend ended his season with anotherinating display in the 200m also visited a school complex in Thessaloniki on Friday in time for the start of the new academic year.

Bolt signed autographs for the pupils and afterwards said to reporters, "I am very impressed by the people’s reception since I first set foot in Thessaloniki." Usain Bolt lined up for a race against a five-year-old local boy and lost.

The short run through a cheering crowd enhanced Bolt’s status as the most charismatic athlete in the world and set him up nicely for the wonderful reception he received as he lined up for the 200m on Sunday.

"It was really fun with the kids," said Bolt, who was cheered on by about 1,000 students on a Thessaloniki street and smiled as he let the boy finish first. "A very warm reception."

"Greece is a fabulous country and Thessaloniki a wonderful city. I will continue to try to break more records," he added.

Cyprus and Greece enjoy cricket triumphs

Cypriots have won the European Division 4 Championship on net run rate from Switzerland and Austria in Happy Valley. All three teams won four of their five matches, but Cypruss thrashed Switzerland in the opening round of matches on June 11 to lose to Austria who, in turn, were defeated by the Swiss.

Cypriots’ drubbing of Slovenia, who they bowled out for 160, lifted the net run-rate in their favour.

Bolt also forced a good save from Chiotis as APOEL held on to the delight of several hundred football fans at the Calderon.

Bolt also shared the 1-1 draw.

Late goal hits Greece

World Cup hopes

Moldova 1 - 1 Greece

A 90th minute goal from Moldovas Oleg Andronic snatched a vital win away from an otherwise deserving Greek side in Chisinau last Wednesday night. The Greeks held the lead for most of the match along with most of the possession and had plenty of chances to make the game safe, but profligate finishing was too prove too costly at the end of the night. The tie be-gan energetically and Greece soon got in their stride creating several chances. A Charistias cross was just headed wide by Gekas in the 12th minute. Gekas again was open for a shot but in the 20th minute, his left footed effort did not threaten the goal. Gekas saw his best effort crasch off a post after a quality pass from Samaras in the 30th minute. Moments later Greece took the lead when an impressive build up by Samaras was passed off to Spyropoulou, who then fed the ball to the on coming Gekas, who struck a hard left footed shot that deflected into the far side of the goal. Greece now with the lead continued to control the ball. The 2nd half began much the same way the 1st ended, with Greece controlling the play and creating scoring chances. The first substitution for Greece was made necessary when Moras hurt his leg going up for a header. Avraam Papadopoulos replaced him in central defence. Samaras continued his fine play feeding Gekas for yet another chance. Soon after it was newly captained Kostas Katsourains the time to turn provider with a beautifully lobbed through ball onto Gekas who put the ball into the side netting. Gekas was looking somewhat frustrated at the number of chances he had squandered and this would prove costly later.

With Moldova pushing for an equalizer it created space in their backfield and Greece almost made them pay with an excellent movement between Amanatidis, Samara-s and Charistias. As the game moved into the last minutes with Greece holding a slim lead it looked like they would hold onto the victory. However they were undone in the 90th minute when a scrambled cross into the box was met one time by the right foot of Andronic and hit low inside the corner. The goal stunned the Greeks.

The draw left Greece with a single point from their two recent qualifying matches, a result that is hugely disappointing and threatens their World Cup qualification hopes. Two victories from their remaining two matches are now a must and then a playoff match up beckons if Greece are to take their place in South Africa.
Greece’s next qualification match is to be played in Athens against Latvia on October 10th, followed by the last game against Luxembourg on 14th, again in OAKA.

Okkas grabs draw
d for Cyprus

Montenegro 1 - 1 Cyprus

Mon tenegro remain without a win at World Cup qualifying Group Eight after letting a second-half lead slip away against Cyprus. Captain Mirko Vucinic handed the home side a 57th-minute lead with a penalty, but Cyprus drew level seven minutes later when Ioannis Okkas notched.

Zoran Filipovic’s team, like Cyprus, had seen their hopes of a surprise top two finish disappear much earlier in the campaign so were playing for national pride. After a goalless first half, Montenegro were presented with their big chance to make a breakthrough when Stefanovic surged in from the left and entered the penalty area where his progress was halted by Marinos Satias. Referee Cyril Zimmerman saw a penalty and Vucinic fired the ball past Cyprus goalkeeper Sofronis Avgousti.

A victory in their eighth qualifier looked on account of Montenegro’s best player and the team, which tends to relax today box. Montenegro piled on the pressure in the rest of the match, as they searched for a winner, but the strong Cyprus defence held out.

South African dream fading for Greece

There is a growing realisation that the current Greek tide may not qualify for the World Cup. The team’s last tree qualification matches that have yielded only one point and this is not the form of a side that will take their place in South Africa.

“We must think of the match against Latvia (on October 10) as a final,” said coach Otto Rehhagel, putting on once again a brave face during hard times.

“We have some players missing but we must field a good enough team against Latvia,” he added.

On the Moldova match he suggested that “we should have scored a second goal. It was logical for our opponents to have a chance and they took it in the end of the match. Football is unpredictable,” Rehhagel said.

Celtic striker Giorgos Samarastated that “we are very disappointed. It was a match we should have killed off from early on.

“No we have no other choice.
Fans in the past have not helped us in Athens as much as we had wanted, but now we need them on our side. I hope they will come to assist us in the game with Latvia because this is a crucial match.”

Samaras said, visibly worried.

The statement by general mantager Takis Fyssas on Wednesday that “there are one or two international problems within the national team that have to be resolved by October,” left most people wanting not just to know what the problems are but only how they will be resolved for the crucial games of next month and the likely play-off matches in November.

The local sports press reacted with its usual “disgust” after a non-desirable result for Greece.

“We'll need Otto-stop for the World Cup” said an inspired headline by Goal News, while FFthnoss argued that “Greece sold the game cheaply.”

Derby News was even harsher saying that “the national team was a tragedy.” Score Line opted for the common headline “harakiri for Greece.”

Commentators focused on the lack of focus and efficiency of the team, which tends to relax to-toward the end of each game and conceal crucial goals.

When you add to this the inability to score when presented with its usual “disgust” after a non-desirable result for Greece.

For the second week Champions SALAMINA showed their strength to brush aside title rivals when they put up a sparkling display to beat KLN 7-1.

TRIPIMEN had to use all their experience to overcome a tenacious VAROSI PENDAYIA team who are looking well balanced and full of enthusiasm. Their narrow victory leaves them along with Salamina as the only two teams with a 100% record after just two games.

Promoted RIZOKARPSO bounced back from last week’s defeat to beat ANORHOSIS FAMAGUSTA with a resilient and passionate display. OMONIA are still finding goals hard to come by as they sink to the bottom of the table after a 1-0 defeat by PANTHEA. Oh for a goalscorer!!

In Division Two Group A, promotion favourites CETINKAYA opened their account with an impressive win 5-2 over AEP.

AEL will feel better after securing their first points with a narrow win over the experienced ARADIPPOU.

MARONIT ES were not a match for BROTHERHOOD who put up a tremendous display winning 4-0.

Group 2 leaders APOEL had a scare before overcoming PANTEL 3-2.

In the LFA Sunday Junior Cup there were wins for COSMOS and ALL SAINTS but KOMI KEBIR went down by the odd goal of five.

Details in Result

DIVISION ONE

KLN 1 Salamina 7

KLN were really unprepared for this game and certainly the result. They definitely missed keeper Vasos Hara but even he would not have stopped this one way traffic. Once Kiri Kyriphanos put them ahead as early as the 5th minute, SALAMINA were unstoppable adding further goals from George Gregoriou 2, Michael Dean, Richard Georgiou, Doug Morton and Kyriphanos again.

KLN did get a consolation goal but manager Jason Kourris will have to work on his players to put up the game behind them. Salamina’s manager George Georgiou will be happy that two main rivals have been played off the park.

Trippemeni 2 Varosi Pendayia 1

Steve Sinoti’s team have a lucky escape and will have to improve if they are to challenge for the title. Lawrence Constanti gave the home side an early lead but Varosi soon cancelled that out with a goal from Gokmen Dogan.

Trippemeni came back again with Constanti to go in at the interval 2-1. Both teams had opportunities but failed to convert leaving Tripimeni to take the three points and stay on the heels of Salamina.

Anorthosis Famagusta 1 Rizokarpos 2

Promoted RIZO put up a good and disciplined performance to beat ANORHOSIS FAMAGUSTA at New River. They looked sharper, organised and played with a lot of passion and in striker Dean Barker they had a goalscoring target man that Anorthosis badly need.

In fact unless Anorthosis feel that void they will find it difficult to stay with the league’s top three.

Barker gave the visitors the lead then Fotis Christodoulou missed from the spot but Anorthosis got a second opportunity five minutes later and Kiri Porous made no mistake with a well taken 1-1.

Rizo put the set back behind them to get the winner again from Dean Barker who controlled a Demi Pouno pass to score.

Panthea 1 Omonia 0

PANTHEA bounced back from their previous mashling from Salamina to beat OMONIA 1-0.

Mike Pieri has got a good and organised outfit but they desperately need to get a strike because all their good approach work is wasted. That’s two 1-0 defeats to start the season.

Panthea’s goal came from Philip Theodosios in the 40th minute.

DIVISION 2A

Cetinkaya 5 AEP 2

Promotion fancied CETINKAYA made sure they started on the right foot with an impressive 5-2 win over AEP at Tottenhall.

AEP came into this game with a lot of confidence after their opening game but they were no match for Cetinkaya who took the lead with Cem Cemal.

Further goals from Murat Karagul 2 and Leon Wilson 2 put them 5-0 up and the game was over.

AEP scored two late goals with Andy Stylianou.

LFA Sunday Junior Cup

COSMOS beat Wandsworth Wanderers 2-1, while VAROSI PENDAYIA easily beat Wallhampton Red Star 3-2.

No luck for KOMI KEBIR as they went down 3-2 to ISKEL.

AEK L9 EAGLES BLACK WIN AGAIN!

AEK EAGLES BLACK U9———9

WHISTSTONE JAGUARS U9———0

AEK Eagles Black U9 continue to go from strength to strength with a 9-0 win over Whiststone Jaguars. Another solid performance starting with Ronald in goal didn’t have a shot to save in the first half and William and George Georgiou helped George get a first half hat-trick which helped him gain man of the match for his excellent performance. First half striker George Kyriacou was unlucky not to score and helped create lots of chances. Goal of the match was a passing move starting from William as he passed to Mario who was pursued by Marinos Constanti on to George K and then George D scoring into the bottom right. With scores at 6-0 half time hat-trick hero George went in, George Kyriacou was replaced by Murat Cemal with only minutes to the break as he was substituted while Cemal had a similar chance. Cash Anagnostou replaced GC in defence and Ronaldo replaced Constanti in midfield.

Good work from Ronald helped create the 7th goal scored by Mario Trais, Alex and Mario T combined well for Mario T to score another 2 goals and a hat-trick. The most pleasing thing was the impressive passing of the team and work ethic which was excellent to see.
