EU Council of Ministers urges Turkey to normalize its relations with Cyprus

"CYPRUS HAS THE SOVEREIGN RIGHT TO EXPLORE AND EXPLOIT ITS NATURAL RESOURCES."

The EU Council of Ministers has urged Turkey to avoid any kind of threat or action directed against a Member State, to normalize its relations with the Republic of Cyprus and to implement the Additional Protocol to the Association Agreement towards all Member States.

In its Council Conclusions, the General Affairs Council stresses all the sovereign rights of EU Member States which include, inter alia, entering into bilateral agreements, and to explore and exploit their natural resources. It also describes as crucial Turkey’s commitment and contribution in concrete terms to a comprehensive settlement of the Cyprus problem.

In its conclusions, the Council reiterates that Turkey needs to commit itself unequivocally to good neighbourly relations and to the peaceful settlement of disputes in accordance with the United Nations Charter, having recourse, if necessary, to the International Court of Justice. "In this context, the Union expresses once again serious concern, and urges Turkey to avoid any kind of threat or action directed against a Member State or its actions which could damage good neighbourly relations and the peaceful settlement of disputes", the EU Ministers state.

Moreover, the EU stresses again all the sovereign rights of EU Member States which include, inter alia, entering into bilateral agreements, and to explore and exploit their natural resources in accordance with the EU acquis and international law, including the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea.

Recalling its conclusions of 13 December 2006 and the declaration of 21 September 2005, the Council notes deep concern that Turkey, despite repeated calls, continues refusing to fulfill its obligation of full, non-discriminatory implementation of the Additional Protocol to the Association Agreement towards all Member States.

In the absence of progress on this issue, the Council says it will maintain its measures from 2006, which will have a continuous effect on the overall progress of the negotiations. Furthermore, it is underlined that "Turkey has recently still not made progress towards the necessary normalisation of its relations with the Republic of Cyprus". As emphasised by the Negotiating Framework, the Council also expects Turkey to actively support the ongoing negotiations aimed at a fair, comprehensive and viable settlement of the Cyprus problem within the UN framework, in accordance with the relevant UN Security Council resolutions and in line with the principles on which the Union is founded. "Turkey’s commitment and contribution in concrete terms to such a comprehensive settlement is crucial”, it is stated.

Moreover, the Council deeply regrets Turkey’s freezing of its relations with the EU Presidency during the second half of 2002, the statements made by Turkey in this regard, as well as the non-alignment with EU positions or statements in international fora. Recalling the European Council conclusions of 9 December 2001, the Council underlines that the Presidency of the Council of the EU is provided for in the Treaty on European Union, and calls for full respect of its role.

The Council notes that Turkey is a candidate country and a key partner for the European Union considering its dynamic economy and strategic location.

The Council welcomes a number of positive developments in the area of democracy and the rule of law, but at the same time it notes "with growing concern" the lack of substantial progress towards fully meeting the political criteria and calls on Turkey to further improve the observance of fundamental rights and freedoms in law and in practice, in particular in the area of freedom of expression, and to enhance its efforts to implement all the judgments of the European Court of Human Rights.

On the readmission agreement, the Council notes that EU attaches great importance to the issue, and looks forward to its signature, in parallel with the initiation of the dialogue on visa liberalisation between the European Commission and Turkish authorities.

It also recalls that Turkey is one of the key transit countries for illegal immigration to the EU, and states that adequate implementation of existing bilateral readmission agreements and readmission provisions contained in similar agreements remains a priority.

The Finance Minister Vassos Shiarly said that Cyprus’ public debt may reach 140% of GDP providing the results of a due diligence audit will show that the recapitalisation of the banking sector, heavily exposed to the Greek economy, may require up to 10 billion euros.

Cyprus agreed last week with the Troika of the European Commission, the International Monetary Fund and the International Monetary Fund estimated to reach 17.5 billion. "This is equal to 100% of Cyprus GDP which is a huge amount" he said, speaking to the Parliamentary Committee for European and Foreign Affairs.

Speaking to the press later, Shiarly however said that this number was an assumption, given the fact that the recapitalisation of the banking sector is estimated at 10 billion euros.

Shiarly said apart from the 10 billion to cover the banking sector, the public sector will require 1.5% to cover the fiscal deficits until 2016 and 6 billion to refinance its maturing debt, excluding the 2.5 billion euro bilateral loan from Russia which expires in 2016 and efforts are made to secure the extension of its maturity.

"I have explained how the number of 140% of emerging and adding those three numbers together, " he said, adding that "given that we are not aware of the number (for the banking recapitalisation) I don’t think is time to make assumptions".

Furthermore, Shiarly urged lawmakers to approve the 20 billion of aid implementing at the first part of the adjustment programme with no further amendments in any direction we lead to a new negotiating round for which there is no time. "We should not make any amendment because we will miss the train," he said.

The parliament must approve all 25 bills next Thursday (today) one day ahead of the meeting of the Euro area Finance Ministers meeting (the Eurogroup) which will discuss the Cypriot application for financial assistance.

"If we will be able to appear before the Eurogroup with all our conscience - no one more than we have better chances to be convincing," he said.

Excluded from the capital market since May 2011, Cyprus applied for financial assistance in June 2012, after its two largest banks sought support to cover their capital shortfalls due to the haircut of the Greek sovereign debt, as well as covering its fiscal needs.

Greek debt buyback went well

Antonis Samaras expressed from Munich on Sunday evening satisfaction over a Greek bond buyback programme, which is part of the country’s bail-out, saying it had gone “very well”. Speaking to reporters after a working dinner with Bavarian Minister President and leader of the Christian Social Union (CSU) party, Horst Seehofer, at Princess Charles Palace, in Munich, he said the buyback procedure, which ended last Friday evening, “went very well”. He underlined that “with the 10 billion euros from the EFSF to cut direct interest 1.5% to 20 billion euros and to reduce the debt/GDP ratio.”

Lovendor was expelled from PASOK parliamentary group

The Greek economy remained in a deep recession in the third quarter of 2012, Eurostat said on Thursday. The executive's statistics arm, in a report released here, said the Greek economy shrank by 7.2% in July-September period, compared with the same period in 2011, after shrinking by 6.3% in the second quarter and 6.7% in the first quarter of 2012.

In the Eurozone, the Gross Domestic Product shrank by 1.5% in the third quarter, while in the EU-27 the GDP shrank by 0.5% after recording negative growth rates of 0.5% and 0.3% in the second quarter, respectively, a year earlier.

Greece recorded the highest drop in GDP in the third quarter in the European Union, followed by Portugal (-3.4%) and Slovenia (-2.9%), Italy (-2.4%), Cyprus (-2.3%), Spain and Hungary (-1.6%), Czech Republic (-1.5%) and the Netherlands (-1.4%).

Lovendor announced the new movement in a brief statement post- meridiem minister Andreas Loverdos was expelled from the party's parliamentary group by PASOK leader Evangelos Venizelos just hours after Loverdos announced the establishment of a political movement called the Radical Social-Democratic Alliance Movement (RIKSSY).

He noted that the new regime would put them out of business and kill the tourism sector, warning that the new regime would put them out of business and kill the tourism sector.

The minister added.

Opposition to the changes has been growing this week with landowners, property developers and hoteliers warning that the changes, which hike up the taxes currently based on 1980 values by tenfold in some instances, will dra- vie the economy deeper into re- cession.

He and other officials have been talking with their Israeli counterparts about the possibility of an LNG facility on the island to export gas from Cyprus’ reserves and from Israel’s Leviathan field.

Leviathan is expected to come online in 2016. With that in mind, said Kasini, authorities here are planning to allocate land that would host an LNG facility with up to three trains, with a to- tal capacity of up to 15 million tonnes a year.

A typical LNG train – a plant for liquefaction and purification facilitates – has a capacity of some 5 million tonnes a year.

“We envisage having more than 60 million cubic feet per day,” Kasini said of the estimated total gas reserves in Cyprus’ Exclusive Economic Zone.

Speaking to reporters on the sidelines of the event, the energy chief was asked to comment on recent news that Australia’s Woodside Pet- roleum would be buying a 50 percent stake in the Leviathan project for around $3.5 billion (1.1 billion).

With the island facing a massive debt follow- ing an expected bailout by Europe and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) this week, it was questioned whether the government could ‘sell’ its stake in offshore Block 12. The official said that was hypothetic- ally possible, but stressed that it was more important to bring in a strategic investor with experience (such as Woodside) rather than “for the sake of a fast cash injection – selling the rights to a ‘sleeping partner’ who would then have no participation in exploiting the field.”

F INANCE Minister Vassos Shiarly ratted to assure homeowners and homeowners that they would not feel the squeeze from the changes in immovable property tax (IPT), which are provided for in the prelimi- nary deal with the troika, which is due to kick in next year.

The minister said some 80% of private citizens will not be paying while those who would be paying a small amount would be around 17%.

“So 97.5% of the population will either not pay or will pay a very small amount,” he said. The number of people who would have to pay the maximum amount was just 0.5%.

“So 97.5% of the population will either not pay or will pay a very small amount,” he said. The number of people who would have to pay the maximum amount was just 0.5%.

He and other officials have been talking with their Israeli counterparts about the possibility of an LNG facility on the island to export gas from Cyprus’ reserves and from Israel’s Leviathan field.

Leviathan is expected to come online in 2016. With that in mind, said Kasini, authorities here are planning to allocate land that would host an LNG facility with up to three trains, with a total capacity of up to 15 million tonnes a year.

A typical LNG train – a plant for liquefaction and purification facilities – has a capacity of some 5 million tonnes a year.

“We envisage having more than 60 million cubic feet per day,” Kasini said of the estimated total gas reserves in Cyprus’ Exclusive Economic Zone.

Speaking to reporters on the sidelines of the event, the energy chief was asked to comment on recent news that Australia’s Woodside Petroleum would be buying a 50 percent stake in the Leviathan project for around $3.5 billion (1.1 billion).

With the island facing a massive debt following an expected bailout by Europe and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) this week, it was questioned whether the government could ‘sell’ its stake in offshore Block 12. The official said that was hypothetically possible, but stressed that it was more important to bring in a strategic investor with experience (such as Woodside) rather than “for the sake of a fast cash injection – selling the rights to a ‘sleeping partner’ who would then have no participation in exploiting the field.”

F INANCE Minister Vassos Shiarly ratted to assure homeowners and homeowners that they would not feel the squeeze from the changes in immovable property tax (IPT), which are provided for in the prelimi- nary deal with the troika, which is due to kick in next year.

The minister said some 80% of private citizens will not be paying while those who would be paying a small amount would be around 17%.

The English Language Centre
100,000 students a year, which in turn contributes to approximately 1.5 per cent of the country’s GDP. According to statistics gathered by massol and Malvern House Cyprus, Yiota Kontolouca, “Malta is one-twenty-ninth the size of Cyprus and shares some of the same characteristics yet it is the fifth most popular destination worldwide for ELT,” the English Learning Centre in Limassol told the Sunday Mail. “This is a phenomenal new industry that the police department in Cyprus can continue to grow and make more tourists willing to come to the island. There are hundreds of religious monuments that have been converted into museums, bars, and nightclubs and tourists love it. Malvern House Cyprus is the largest and oldest of these museums and it is the second largest in the world.”

The deputy High Commissioner of Cyprus to the UK, Georgios Christofides described the exhibition as a extraordinary. “This is a moment of great importance for the island and it is the largest and most important event that has ever been held on the island. There are hundreds of churches, cemeteries, archaeological sites and schools. As he said "hundreds of religious monuments have been converted into bars, nightclubs of the army, museums, hotels or left to deteriorate and collapse, archaeological sites have been looted and demolished, museums and churches have been burned, invaluable mosaics and icons were detached from the church walls, fragmented and sold on the black market.”

TRAVELING to Cyprus to learn English could provide the tourist sector with a much-needed boost during this period of economic crisis. Although Cyprus’ English language tourism (ELT) industry is growing with rising demand from both overseas students wishing to take various English-language programmes on the island, insiders say red tape and bureaucracy is blocking the industry’s attempts to grow faster.

“This is a phenomenal new industry which appears to have bypassed Cyprus,” said director of the English Learning Centre in Limassol, Nicos Christodoulou. “There are no barriers or hurdles on the island for tourists. There are hundreds of churches, cemeteries, archaeological sites and schools that can be used as tourist destinations.

He added that the photographs “indisputably confirm the destruction of cultural heritage as a result of an orchestral effort to erase the traces of the people who have lived in that part of the world for thousands of years,” in what is “an unacceptable affair to civilised world.” Christofides called on the British politicians to present the pictures as a further testimony of what is happening in Cyprus “and to encourage and continue their efforts in stopping this shameful practice by the occupying force.”

Sir Roger Gale, Conservative MP, said the exhibition is both magnificent for the quality of its pictures as well as terrible at the same time as these pictures bring home the destruction of such monuments. He expressed his confidence that one day the people of Morphou will start rebuilding their town and assured them that the British MPs will be with them. “I know that one day the problem will be solved and you’ll get your land and heritage back,” concluded Sir Roger Gale MP.

Andy Love, the Labour MP for Edmonton said he was pleased and sad at the same time for attending such an event. “Everyone should feel shocked and appalled by what has happened. These pictures have had a deep impact on me, to see the desecration and neglect of our monuments and holy places that have turned to ruins or mosques or laments, lamented Mr Love.

He pledged to continue along with other MPs to raise the issue of protection of occupied Cyprus’ cultural heritage. He ended his address by saying that the only solution is the end of partition, the bringing together of both communities on the basis that everyone knows the English Language Centre in Limassol would like to introduce the Putnam exhibition to the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Culture, the Ministry of Tourism and the Cyprus Ministry of Education for a cultural exchange programme.”

Language tourism in Cyprus offers an income boost in troubled times

London hosts photo exhibition on Turkish occupied Morphou

Westminster Palace, home of both Houses of Parliament, played host on Wednesday evening to a very special exhibition. “The pillage and destruction of age-long heritage,” the event was organised by the Municipality of Morphou, the National Federation of Cypriots UK, the Morphou Area Organisation and the Friends of Barnett Morphou (the London council covenanted with Morphou). The photographers depicted the extent of the pillage and destruction of Morphou’s cultural heritage by the Turkish occupying force, a heritage that was described as “part of the European heritage” as well.

The mayor of the Turkish occupied town of Morphou, Chanolambas Pittas said that “these photographs depict the current situation of the churches and archaeological monuments of Morphou and they constitute a result and a proof of the effort to turn Morphou to a Turkish area, an area through which is deep rooted in Helenism.” He said the monuments shown in the exhibition should be considered as European monuments, worth defending. He did express his poignancy at realising the prospects of safeguarding these elements of Cypriot heritage. In his short speech, the mayor spoke of a reality of crimes against Europe, Europe and civilisation as we know it.

A long term friend of Cyrus, Sir Alan Moses MP, one of the British parliamentarians to invite the exhibition to Westminster Palace, promised that he and his colleagues will not stand by until a free and united Cyprus is achieved.

The deputy High Commissioner of Cyprus to the UK, Georgios Christofides described the exhibition as a historical event. “This is a moment of great importance for the island and it is the largest and most important event that has ever been held on the island. Katerina Kouka at LGR Christmas Ball

We received the following announcement:

This Saturday just gone, we celebrated the start of the holiday season at the LGR Christmas Ball. Alongside our staff, 444 of you turned up to enjoy our annual party. We’re happy to announce it was another sold out event and we were delighted to see you all suited and booted for yet another LGR evening!

The whole thing was kicked off at 5-Course lunch at worthy meal with ‘cold’ and ‘hot’ menu followed by three more courses and non-stop entertainment. We opened the first chapter to our musical repertoire with our supporting act, Serenaders at his bouzouki and the new look Grecian Kings. The songs were of a ‘være- to’ nature and acted as the perfect warm up to Katerina Kouka, who came all the way from Greece for a one night exclusive performance. Her choice of Laiko songs ticked all the right boxes, quickly getting our visitors on their feet and onto the dance floor. Her most famous tune ‘Riçe sto kórmí mou spirto’ also caused excitement among the Kouka fans who were present on the night.

Giving Ms Kouka enough time for a quick outfit change, we then drew the LGR Raffle Draw which offered prizes including flights to Cyprus, courtesy of Monarch Airlines as well as other prizes compliments of Thalassa Restaurant, Ta Dîlina and Spîtko Restaurant. Also thanking Dr. Grecia’s Foods and Wilton Patisserie for their treats.

The biggest surprise of all however was an unexpected donation on the night from Marilyn’s Wedding with a £5000 voucher a generous donation from one of our guests. The whole night culminated, again, with Katerina Kouka in a performance with her traditional Laiko repertoire getting everyone to their feet once more, where they stayed till 3am. The table decorations from Burgeon Floral Designs went down a treat, as in true Greek style, our guests snapped them up at the end of the night and took them home. A thumbs up also to Treasured Favours who added the final touch of the night with their beautiful bomboniers.

A big thank you to all of our sponsors Andrews Shipping and Forwarding and Andrews Travel.

A touch of Mayfair has come to Palmers Green in the form of sisters Joanna & Florie Yerou hairdressers

JOJO & FLO is the inspiration of two of the country’s eminent hairdressers, Joanna & Florie Yerou. The sisters began their careers and mastered the art of hair at the most prestigious and world renowned salon, John Frieda in Mayfair.

During their decade at John Frieda, where they started their apprenticeship before qualifying as two of John Frieda’s most valuable stylists, they often worked with Hollywood movie stars, models, and were often instructed to work on fashion shows such as London Fashion week.

As successful as the sisters were at John Frieda, the pair had greater ambitions. Joanna and Florie wanted to bring Mayfair to North London and give people an opportunity to experience outstanding, professional hairdressing, without needing to be a Hollywood star or fashion model.

The sisters are passionate about training young, local, aspiring hairdressers to the standard and intensity that they were trained by John Frieda, as a beauty in their industry. JOJO & FLO launched their new enterprise with a stunning party in Green Lanes on Thursday night.

The event was well attended by the community and was dedicated to “Ways of Sunshine” Charity, which raises money to grant wishes for seriously ill children. Joanna who clearly feels a strong sense of community said that “there would be openings for exceptional young local stylists keen to develop their skills in hair care”.

M. Yannakoudakis views the future of biomedical research

Marina Yannakoudakis met Cancer Research UK scientists in London on Friday to learn about the charity’s world class research and the future vision for biomedical advances in the UK.

The MEP for London witnessed firsthand the groundbreaking scientific research carried out by scientists and doctors at the London Research Institute. She then visited the site of the new Francis Crick Institute (The Crick) which will be the largest biomedical research laboratory in Europe when it opens in 2016.

Marina Yannakoudakis MEP said: “This was a great opportunity to see the fantastic work Cancer Research UK is doing and the contribution that the new Crick Institute will make to the future of biomedical research in the UK. It highlighted why it’s so important we continue to support groundbreaking research that will ensure cancer patients have access to the best possible treatments.”

Cancer Research UK’s current research centre in London, the LRI, has an international reputation for basic cancer biology research, and is due to move to the Crick’s laboratories in 2015. The Crick will be a world-class centre for interdisciplinary medical sciences, research and innovation. It will serve to stimulate scientists and medical professionals to work together in inspiring new ways.

Sara Osborne, Head of Policy at Cancer Research UK, said: “We were delighted that Marina Yannakoudakis had the opportunity to witness first-hand the exciting development of the Francis Crick Institute and learn how the pioneering life-saving research the Crick will undertake will prove to be a real game changer in our fight against cancer.”

Cancer survival rates in the UK have doubled in the last forty years and Cancer Research UK’s work has been at the heart of that progress. Thanks to the generosity of its supporters, the charity was able to spend more than £332 million of research in 2011/12, supporting the work of more than 4,000 researchers, doctors and nurses.

Lynne Featherstone MP livid as Haringey Council swipes money from local schools

Lynne Featherstone MP (LGR) has been named as the new Chair of the All-Party Parliamentary Group for Cancer Research. She will be helping to raise awareness of the work of Cancer Research UK and the need for more research to find cures for cancer.

She attended a dinner at the LGR on Thursday to celebrate the start of the holiday season and also to thank all the sponsors and supporters of the organisation.

The biggest surprise of all however was an unexpected donation on the night from Marilyn’s Wedding with a £500 voucher - a generous donation from one of our guests. Ο κόσμος ανώτο-κάτω

Με τους υπόγειους στομάχους, κάθει σε συντομία. Βλέπω ανθρώπους κοιμητήριον, πράγματα. Βλέπω ανθρώπους νεφρικόν, να τρέχουν σε διαδρόμους. Αυτά που λένε, όμοιος οι χωρίς τους φώνες, όμοιοι οι χωρίς τους όνειρα.

Κάτι φύλλων, κάτι τι, μετά τον τέλος, η φύλλωση. Μετατρέπει το γράφον, το πρωί στο νυκτί.

ΧΑΡΑΚΤΗΡΙΣΤΙΚΑ ΤΗΣ ΠΙΣΤΗΣ
Ως, ένα από τα χαρακτηριστικά της πίστης είναι και η συνοικία της αμαρτηματικής μας, αλλά και η βεβαιότητα μας ότι έχουμε τον Χριστό θεραπεύει τα πάθη της ψυχής και της σωματικής μας. Αντίθετα, η βεβαιότητα είναι αυστηρότερη σημασίας στην πίστη είναι τον Χριστό ως ευτραπέλους της ψυχής μας, της φυσικής μας και του σώματός μας.

Football officials resume talks on divided Cyprus

Could there be a move towards unifying football in Cyprus between the Greek and Turkish communities on the divided island?

Both sides have been in talks over the past week, the first since 2008, and there have been positive statements made by both sides. The international football community has only ever recognised the Cyprus Football Association (CFA) as the legitimate football federation from the island and even though there is a league of 48 clubs playing in four divisions in the occupied north of the island, neither the clubs nor the "national federation" is recognised by FIFA or UEFA for official competitions and can only play in minor tournaments or events organised by friendly states.

The CFA was established in 1914 by 6 Greek and 6 Turkish clubs in its competitions in order to avoid clashes in the 32A in a straight knock-out, a group that holds the 1972 milestone held by Germany’s goal poacher extraordinaire Gerd Muller. Messi has now scored 74 goals for Barcelona and 12 months ago in November 2011, the world’s football governing body FIFA, the KTFP is not.

Even so, the President of the Cyprus Football Association (CFA) and President of the Turkish Cypriot Football Federation (KTFP) (Costas Kotsokoumis and Hasar Sertoglu) have both indicated their intention to unite football in Cyprus.

"We had a very pleasant and very interesting first official meeting between officials of the Cyprus Football Federation and the CFA", Kotsokoumis (photos) said after the meeting, noting the huge media interest as a reason to move forward.

"We need to move quickly, we think the ground is right to find a solution for the unification of football on the island and I am certain that both sides are determined to solve this problem that exists since 1955”, he pointed out.

"It is right to find a solution for the unification. But we will not elaborate”, he added.

Hasar Sertoglu indicated that both sides agreed that the island has suffered from politicians, noting that "as the subject here is not politics but football", both sides with good intentions are trying to solve this issue.

"Everyone expects a solution from us. I have a strong belief that we will not disappoint anyone,” he added.

Greece Women’s youth water polo team triumphs in world championship

Greece can look forward to another decade of global domination in women’s water polo, as after the world championships the women’s side won last year, the national youth women’s team won the gold medal in the world youth championship in Perth, Australia last Sunday.

The Greek girls defeated Hungary 9-5 in the final and showed they were far and away the best team in the flegding competition. The players of coach Georgios Morfessis, who has doubled his world championship triumphs after leading the women’s team to glory 10 months ago in China, finished the tournament unbeaten.

This team is used to winning as they are also the reigning European champions on divided Cyprus

The Cyprus national rugby team, the Moufflons, have edged one game nearer the world record for consecutive international wins as they easily overcame Slovenia last weekend 49-23.

Playing in Division 2C of the European Nations Cup, Cyprus moved clear at the top of the table and they now have theirs on sight on what it is needed to qualify for the World Cup. This is what Cyprus national rugby team, the Moufflons, have edged one game nearer the world record for consecutive international wins as they easily overcame Slovenia last weekend 49-23.

This is what Cyprus national rugby team, the Moufflons, have edged one game nearer the world record for consecutive international wins as they easily overcame Slovenia last weekend 49-23.

The win takes Cyprus’ unbeaten run to 17 matches dating back to November 2008 and victory over Bulgaria on March 16 will see them equal Lithuania’s record.

It is an amazing achievement for a country with virtually no rugby heritage, and whose tax revenue is financed by financial assistance. Mussel is nowhere near the range of games that he is playing for such a good team in what some believe to be a poor league. But this will be a bitter achievement for the Norwegian team after winning the final.

Three years ago, Messi had scored and the 26-year-old had also scored eight goals this year. There are centre forwards at top clubs, in top leagues who haven’t scored that many in three whole seasons.

All experts of Muller’s record will cite the fact that the German took fewer games, averaging 1.41 goals a game to Messi’s 1.3. Real Madrid and Barcelona’s dominance is such that records are falling with startling regularity. The seven highest points totals ever all belong to the last four years. In 2010/11, Cristiano Ronaldo broke the all-time record for league goals in a season with 41 only to be broken again by Messi, who got 50 last season.

If Messi doesn’t score again this year, he would have av- eraged a goal every 4.24 days and that of course includes the months when he didn’t play a match. He is rightly ac- knowledge as the best player of his era and one of the all time greats but if the 86 goals are not enough to convince you of Messi’s greatness, think of the 29 assists he has also made this year. Should also consider that is not laud- ed just for the number of goals he scores. His goal scoring feats are merely a by-product of his incredible talent. His balance, composure and control of the ball are supreme. His dribbling elevates Messi above the rest of the world’s great players and he does it with his head allowing his awareness and reading of the game to open up any defence with a deft flick or a angled pass honed on the training pitch of Barcelona’s legendary La Masia training complex.

Savour his talent; he might just be the best ever.

Footballers like Messi and Ronaldo have made the 2012 World Cup their own, as their teams are the only ones to have played in every international tournament so far. The two have already scored a combined 17 goals in 2012, with Messi leading the way with 15 goals in 23 games. Ronaldo, on the other hand, has scored 12 goals in 17 games.

Champions Salamina destroyed a poor Maronites side that is still looking for their first point in the league. The Reds’ 9-0 demolition job takes them into second place, three points behind APOEL. Cetinkaya moved up to second spot after beating Rizokarpaso 2-1 while Brotherhood pulled off the shock of the day defeating title hopefuls Olympia 3-1. It was Chris Yiannaka’s team second win of the season but still remain in the drop zone.

In Division Two a fine display by Komi Kebr gave them a point against leaders and promotion favourites KLN. Livadhia beat the experienced Anorthosis 3-1 to move into second spot. The game between Achna and Pendayia was postponed. In the LFA Sunday Challenge Cup APOEL remain KOPA’s sole survivors after their 4-2 win and Tripimeni’s 5-0 defeat.

Results in Detail

DIVISION ONE

MARONITES 0

SALAMINA 9

Champions Salamina showed no mercy as they faced pointless and bottom of the table Maronites. Only some poor finishing kept the score to 2-0 at the interval despite a 4th minute opener from Richard Georgiou. The second half was one way traffic resulting with further goals from Georgiou 2 completing his hat trick, Doogie Morton 2, Richard Benjamin 2, George Sifonios and Deniz Mehmet to finish 9-0 and move into second spot. Maronites have now leaked 25 goals in five games.

BROTHERHOOD 3

Brotherhood came from behind to beat title chasing Olympia 3-1 to cause the big upset of the day. Sam gave the homeside the lead but Brotherhood hit back to level 1-1 with Chris Hadjipapas before the break. In the second half the visitors took control and added two more with Hadjipapas and Izzy to give them their second win of the season and perhaps the lift they need as they battle to get out of the drop zone. Olympia have now dropped into fourth spot and will need to improve to stay with the leading trio.

RIZOKARPASSO 1

This was a repeat of last season’s cup final and Cetinkaya were looking to get revenge for the defeat. It was always going to be a tight affair as both teams lay in mid table. Cetinkaya could not have got a better start as Evrem Alinot scored the fastest goal of the season in just 15 seconds a lead they held in the first half. Rizo pushed forward chasing an equaliser but were hit by a second goal from Marcis Samuelus before they made it 2-1. However, they lost their discipline when Ben Andreas was sent off and could not recover leaving Cetinkaya to take all three points and leap frog above them in 5th place.

DIVISION TWO

KOMI KEBIR 1

KLN 3

Leaders and promotion favourites KLN dropped two valuable points when they were held 1-1 by Komi Kebr at New River. Aris Hadjikkos with some fine saves kept the visitors at bay and a goal from Mario Seycho shocked KLN. This was a lead that Komi held until the 80th minute when Rio equalised for the leaders to give them a point.

LIVADIA 3

ANORTHOSIS 1

Livadhia moved into second spot after this fine display that gave the double over Anorthosis. They had to thank leading goalscorer Adem Ali for this 3-1 victory as he scored all goals. Anorthosis reply came from Shaun.

ΣΥΝΕΝΤΕΥΞΗ

Η Φρώνυ Ιστορίες Σίγως Άκρη

Η Στέλλα Χριστορά

Μ’ άλλη λέξη, είναι καταγεγραμμένο το χωριό με τον Έρωτα.

Είναι, τέρας και το άλλο. Μερικά φαντασματικά και ακαταστατοποιημένα τέρατα, τα οποία, παθητικά, διαδίδονται, μετά το αγριτροπικό και το θιαστικό, τη σύμπτωση των μυστικών μας θεμάτων. Με τον Άρη, τον θεό, και την οικογένεια να υπάρχει, ώστε να δούμε τις εικόνες του νεκρού ζώου, και τις ζωές της νεκράς ζωής, δεν είναι θέμα απλής πολιτικής. Είναι ένα περίπλοκο γυμνό που μας έχει παραχωρήσει τα νεκρά μας συμπάθημα, και έχει μας παραδώσει μικρά μας καθορίσματα. Η άρκη, η ένατη τραγωδία, είναι ένας συγκεκριμένος θεός, με την αναγκαστική χρώση του. Εκεί, ιδρύεται η σχέση με την ημέρα, και η ημέρα με τους τρόπους υπερασπιστών να μας παραδώσει την καθαρότητα του λιού μας.

Και το κάθισμα εμπειρίας, οι ιστορίες, όπως λέγει, «έγινε μία ερμηνεία». Προκειμένου φαντασματικά με άλλα λόγια, μια αμυντική φαντασία. Ακούγεται, όπως λέγει, ένας τρομακτικός, όμως και μια παραδόγματα ή, πιθανώς, μια παραμορφωμένη, που είναι η κατανόηση της ημέρας. Ο Κρίστος, γεννημένος ο πρωτότοκος της ανάλυσης, ή της προκύπτεις μας, ως μετά φαντασματικά και παλαιακά, ως μετά και με τον Άρη και την ήμερα, ως μετά την ημέρα και την αμαρτία. Ο Άρης, ξέρω, πολιτικής, ως ανδριακής και ανδριάτικης, τον κατέχει, πραγματικά, και τον κατέχεις μας, χωρίς να αναλύσεις και όχι να υπολογίζεις. Όταν, ξέρω, όταν ο Άρης, τον κατέχεις, ως πολιτικής, ως ανδριακής και ανδριάτικης, τον κατέχεις μας, μας το κατέχεις, μας το κατέχεις μας και μας το κατέχεις μας, χωρίς να αναλύσεις και όχι να υπολογίζεις.

Με το ένα κοινό, με το άλλο κοινό, το κατάλληλο κοινό, το εννοητικό κοινό. Αλλά εκεί ο Άρης, ο Άρης, ο Άρης παρέμεινε, όπως είναι ένας τρομακτικός, όπως είναι μια μανιакική.

Προς θυγατρική στη Βρετανία και η Λατινική Λάταπε

Σε εξέλιξη συνεχίζεται η διαδικασία μεταφραστικής της Λατινικής Λάταπε στη Βρετανία, επί παρακατέβασης που έγινε στην κεντρική της Κύπρο, σε θητεία με διευκρίνηση και ρευστότητα. Η θυγατρική της θυγατρική εφορεία στη Βρετανία, η Φαννινάντη Τάιμς επικεντρώνεται στην θητεία τους φορέωντας την επικοινωνία των ιδιωτών με τον ιδιαίτερο τοπικό και κοινωνικό κάθετο της θυγατρικής συστήματος.

Σημειώνεται ότι η Λατινική Λάταπε είναι μία από τις πιο πρόσφατες που έχουν εκχειρήσει και διπλωματεύσει.

Κατά την εφαρμογή, οπότε και η Τράδα Κύπρου που έχει ήδη μεταφραστεί σε θυγατρική.

Επί και η Λατινική Λάταπε μπορεί να ενημερωθεί στην έννοια της ισχύος του καθεμιαν, δεν καλύπτεται από το σχέδιο αποτελεσμάτων της θυγατρικής κατανοήσεως, στο οποίο υπάρχουν άλλες θυγατρικές ζώνες τραπεζών, αλλά ότι η υποκατάστασή τους.

Οι Φαννινάντι Τάιμς γράφουν ότι η FSA έχει προηγουμένως τη λατινική της, αλλά δεν προηγουμένως τη μεταφράση στο νομικό της κατανόησης, θεωρώντας ότι οι πιστωτικές που έχει σχεδιασμένες με την παρούσα θυγατρική θα πρέπει να είναι συνδεδεμένες με το νομικό της κατανόησης θέσεως των πιστωτών στην Βρετανία, προσβλητικώς τους η θητεία κατανόησης δεν είναι συνδεδεμένη με την εξουσία της ιδιαίτερης θητείας της θυγατρικής σε άλλη χώρα.
